

Elsie Fehr, piano & theory

RMT, BMus, MMus

I have 50 years of teaching experience in my private studio, having taught all ages and all levels, from beginners to seniors. I love to teach those who love to learn music. I teach students for exams in both the Royal Conservatory of Music and Conservatory Canada systems, and have had medal winners in both the piano and theory categories. I also teach a wide variety of fun music plus jazz/pop/modern to balance the musical diet.

Education:

Master of Music (piano pedagogy), East Texas State University

Bachelor of Music, University of Manitoba (studied piano with Marek Jablonski, my most influential teacher)

Bachelor of Religious Education, Providence University College

Experience:

I have been teaching through the Manitoba Conservatory of Music and Arts (piano and theory) for over 25 years. I have also taught at various local colleges over the years: Canadian Nazarene College (piano, music theory and history, fine arts), Canadian Mennonite Bible College (piano), and Mennonite Brethren Bible College (piano). I taught over 20 years at the School of Fine Arts at Grant Memorial Baptist Church (associated with Linden Christian School). I also spent a very special year (1974-75) teaching at Bingham Academy in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where I discovered the love and joy of teaching music, and there decided to make it my life and career.
